Trace America's history right here!

When the original 13 Colonies of the United States were formed, most of the land west of the Colonies was unsettled. After all, no one knew exactly how far west the land extended. But if you take a look at a map of the eastern United States you'll notice that northern Ohio is exactly west of Connecticut. As a result, Ohio was originally part of the state of Connecticut.

In 1786, Connecticut gave up claim to this western region, except for a strip of land that extended 120 miles wide from east to west and was bordered by Lake Erie on the north and by Pennsylvania on the east. This reserved area, which was governed by Connecticut until 1800, was named the Connecticut Western Reserve. In 1795 the land was sold to venture capitalists for $1.2 million, who then organized the Connecticut Land Company that ultimately surveyed and settled the region. Today this area is known as Northeastern Ohio.

The purchasers and their associates did not necessarily move to the reserve but instead hired agents to sell the land to those who wanted to migrate to the area. As early as 1796, settlers from Connecticut moved to the region earning the area the name "New Connecticut." Today, much of Northeastern Ohio is reminiscent of New England, especially in architecture.

Many of these first settlers brought with them a deep faith and strong religious beliefs. As a result, both the Connecticut Western Reserve and Trumbull County played significant roles in the Underground Railroad and women's rights movements.

As early as 1823, local citizens were helping fugitive slaves escape to the north. By 1837 Trumbull County had 30 anti-slavery societies with membership totaling close to 1,500. And according to historians, Trumbull County had more escape routes than any other county in Ohio – 153 miles. The Underground Railroad "stations" were scattered throughout the county and there were 22 official "conductors". Some of the hiding places are still standing today.

Although it wouldn't be until 1920 that the 19th Amendment was passed giving women the right to vote, much of the work leading to that moment was performed in Warren where the National American Women's Suffrage Association was headquartered from 1903 until 1909 when it moved to New York City.

TOWNSHIPS, CITIES AND VILLAGES

It's hip to be square!

Of Ohio's 88 counties, Trumbull County is the state's only square county. It measures 25 miles long and 25 miles wide and originally consisted of 25 townships, each measuring five by five miles. Today it is comprised of 24 townships (one of the original 25 voted to incorporate in 1975), five cities and six villages.

Bazetta Township was initially designated "Township 5, Range 3" of the Connecticut Western Reserve and is the center township of Trumbull County. It was founded in 1804, one year after Ohio statehood. The south end of Mosquito Lake State Park, a 7,850 acre lake, is located here. An outdoor enthusiasts' paradise, this park offers fishing, hunting, boating and birding opportunities. A local non-profit organization, Friends of Mosquito Lake State Park, supports the park through its volunteer programs, special events and fundraising efforts. Mosquito Lake Marina, located inside the park, is a one-stop fishing shop selling everything from tackle to bait to snacks, beverages and fishing licenses while providing the only water-accessible fuel on the lake. Every July the township plays host to the Trumbull County Fair. Their registered trademark says it all – "Best Wings USA" and that's exactly what you'll find at Quaker Steak & Lube. And for a relaxing evening be sure to check out the Country Porch Winery which features its own unique character and variety of wines.

Bloomfield Township was founded in 1815 and was one of the last to be developed in Trumbull County. Today it includes two homes listed on the National Register of Historic Places: Brownwood (circa 1819) and Charles Brown Gothic Cottage (circa 1846), both well known "stations" on the Underground Railroad. Today the Town Hall, which was built in 1893, is home of the North Bloomfield Historical Society which hosts its annual Trains in the Town Hall exhibit every December.

Braceville Township was the site of one of the most important "associative" settlements ever attempted in the country, the Trumbull Phalanx. This communal society experiment lasted nearly a decade. In addition to a gristmill, a bow and arrow factory, wagon shop, shoe shop and other industries, the area also included a hotel. In the 1840s a Pennsylvanian opened a store near the Mahoning River and called its location "The Center of the World," a name that still continues to intrigue visitors today.

Bristol Township is home to Ohio's first Civil War memorial, The Civil War Monument. Erected in 1863, it features emblems of various military branches and includes the names of 14 men who gave their lives in the Union cause at Shiloh, Tennessee and Perryville, Kentucky. The Hollister House was the first home to have electric lights in Bristolville.

Brookfield Township was the first area in Trumbull County that was settled as early as 1796 according to some historians. In the 1800s, the local population surpassed Warren and tripled that of neighboring Sharon, Pennsylvania. The Ambrose Hart

Store at Brookfield Center was a station on the Underground Railroad where runaway slaves found a safe haven in the cellar room. Years later the township was also a haven for lawbreakers such as John Dillinger, Clyde Barrow and Ma Barker thus earning the area the name "Little Canada." The Village of Yankee Lake was formed in 1934 solely to allow local residents to dance on Sundays in its famed ballroom.

Today Alcraft Egg Artistry, the only store in the eastern United States dedicated exclusively to the art of decorating Faberge-style eggs is located here. But if eggs aren't your thing and golf is, play a challenging and enjoyable 18-hole round at Yankee Run Golf Course.

Champion Township was slow to grow when first settled thanks to the high land prices demanded by the owner, Henry Champion. However, following his death, the prices went down and the area was rapidly settled. The first township meeting was held in the 1830s in the William Woodrow brick home which still stands near the corner of Champion Avenue and State Route 45. Known today as Mahoning Avenue, the major road running through the area was called the Warren-Ashtabula Turnpike where tolls were collected. It also played a significant role in the Underground Railroad trail to freedom.

The City of Cortland was first called Baconsburg and later Leroy Village. It was once home to the area's only grist mill located along Walnut Creek. In 1942, Mosquito Creek was dammed to create Mosquito Creek Reservoir. Today the city abuts the east side of this large recreational and wildlife area. The Cortland Opera House was originally the site of one of the first Methodist churches in the county. These days it is used for community and social functions and is owned by the Bazetta-Cortland Historical Society. Visitors who like to garden can take a self-guided tour of the Master Gardeners Education and Research Garden located at the Trumbull County Agriculture and Family Education Center. Those looking to redecorate will want to check out the variety of antiques, collectibles and art at Galleria of Arts & Antiques. Pizzelle lovers can choose from 90 different flavors of the gourmet Italian cookie at Just Pizzelles. Tamer Win Golf & Country Club provides golfers with a unique and scenic 18-hole course. The city's newest attraction, the Cortland Splash Pad, is the perfect place to cool off on a hot summer day. And to find out what else is going on in the area, pick up a copy of The Cortland News.

Farmington Township was originally known as Henshaw Township. It became a bustling community in the 19th and early 20th centuries as the Grand River and one of the region's first railroad lines ran through the township.

Fowler Township is one of the oldest communities in Trumbull County. Its Historic District includes State Routes 193 and 305, the Fowler Town Hall (circa 1850) and the David Butts Home built in 1852. Both are now museums that display the township's pioneer past. The oldest structure in the township is the Craft House (circa 1825) located on Everett-Hull Road near Cortland.

The City of Girard grew into a manufacturing and transportation center thanks to its location and proximity to the Mahoning River and the Pennsylvania and Ohio Canal and later to the railroads. In addition to steel and other heavy industry, tanneries played a prominent role in the growth of the city. Although Squaw Creek Park, which was built in 1896 as a trolley park and later called Avon Oaks, is long gone, its grand ballroom still stands. Today Avon Oaks Ballroom still attracts people to one of the largest wooden dance floors in Ohio. Paddling enthusiasts will enjoy the new Girard Boat Launch, the last launch site in Trumbull County before the Mahoning River flows towards Youngstown and Mahoning County. The story about Girard and its history can be found at the Henry Barnhisel House Museum (circa 1840), which is operated by the Girard Historical Society.

Greene Township is the second smallest township in Trumbull County when it comes to population. Much of the land is comprised of Mosquito Lake and the surrounding wetlands and preserves. In the mid-1800s, development of the area increased when a stagecoach line ran from Cleveland through the township on its way to Meadville, Pennsylvania. Hotels and taverns, including the Liberty Raymond Tavern which was also a stop on the Underground Railroad, were built to serve the travelers. However, after a few years the route was discontinued, the hotels and taverns closed and the township residents turned their attention to agriculture and dairy farming. Today you can enjoy fine, handcrafted wines next to a fire in the winter or from an outdoor deck during a summer sunset at Greene Eagle Winery.

Gustavus Township has 12 buildings listed on the National Historic Registry classifying this area as a National Historic District. Additionally, Gustavus became the first township in the United States to build a centralized school. And three locations, including the George Hezlip House and Store, the Stoddard Stevens Store and the Presbyterian Parsonage, had connections to the Underground Railroad.

Hartford Township is known for its annual Apple Festival held every September. It's also home to Sharon Speedway, an auto racing tradition since 1929 owned in part by NASCAR driver, Dave Blaney. Located on the eastern side of Trumbull County, the Hartford area remains rural and is supported by agriculture.

Howland Township is the location of one of the oldest operating businesses in the county, Sunrise Springs, formerly known as Howland Springs Company. It was developed in the 1850s as a health spa resort which included a hotel that contained the first bowling alley west of the Appalachian Mountains. One of the oldest structures in the township is the Sealy House, which was home of the area's first physician, John Sealy, who not only served as an Ohio representative and state senator but was a general in the War of 1812. The first of its kind in Trumbull County, the Mosquito Creek Boardwalk Trail connects Howland Township Park from its southwestern-most corner and continues southwest across an open water area to the 100.5-acres of the Mosquito Creek Floodplain. Buy locally and regionally grown produce at the Howland Farmers Market. The Trumbull Branch of the Butler Institute of American Art is a "must see" for art lovers. Within an easy walk from the gallery, golfers can tee off at the Avalon Golf & Country Club – Avalon Lakes.

The Ernie Hall Aviation Museum honors local aviators' contributions to the field of flight and bears the name of one of America's most regarded aeronautical pioneers, Ernest C. Hall. Those looking for a bite to eat can enjoy a meal at Salvatore's Italian Grill. And bargain hunters will want to browse through the aisles at the Menagerie Thrift & Gift Shoppe on East Market Street.

The City of Hubbard was incorporated in 1868 and its prosperity was attributed to coal mining and the manufacturing of iron. The largest mercantile establishment and company store for the furnace and coal companies, the George M. McKelvey Company, was located here in late 1870s. One notable site sitting on the east end of Liberty Street is the Ohio Bicentennial Barn for Trumbull County. With a ranking of ★★★★½ by Golf Digest, novices and pros alike will find Pine Lakes Golf Club a "must play" course. Then spend the night next door at Julia's Bed & Breakfast rated ◆◆◆◆ by AAA. And for other Stay & Play packages available in Ohio and PA, check out the Penn-Ohio Golf Trail.

Hubbard Township's first framed house in the township, which was built in 1808, is still standing on Bentley Avenue. The discovery of coal in 1861, brought an influx of new settlers to the most southeast township in Trumbull County, including the Welsh whose knowledge of coal mining helped secure them work in the newly-discovered mines.

Johnston Township's first proprietor, Captain James Johnston, was a veteran of both the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812. One of the first major emergencies to face the early settlers of this area was the typhus fever that struck in 1811. As a result of the vast number of deaths, there were limited number of well citizens to care for the sick.

Kinsman Township is Trumbull County's most northeast township. Bordered by Ashtabula

County on the north and the state of Pennsylvania on the east, it is named for John Kinsman, the township's first surveyor, who came to the area in 1799. Other notable citizens included Ernest Lyman who made the first useable extract of insulin for the treatment of diabetes; Josiah Yeomans, credited with making the first corn brooms; Joseph Badger, a Massachusetts-born Revolutionary War veteran and cloth weaver turned preacher; and Clarence Darrow, the nationally-renown lawyer, who is most remembered for his defense of a schoolteacher's right to teach Darwin's theory of evolution in 1925. Darrow's childhood home, the eight-sided Octagon House still stands on Main Street and is privately-owned. The Kinsman Presbyterian Church is one of the oldest extant churches in Trumbull County. Book lovers will love to browse the aisles at Market Square which is located in a historic building that's over 100 years-old and houses 12 different specialty shops and more than 100,000 books. Golfers are invited to test their skills at Bronzwood Golf Club's 18-hole course. The new Peter Allen Inn & Event Center is the perfect venue for an overnight stay, special event, business retreat or dinner.

Liberty Township is listed in some history books as the largest coal mining township in the country, with 17 mines operating at the same time. From the start of mining in 1860 until its end in 1906, the population of this area nearly tripled. Runaway slaves on their way to freedom were hidden in the barnyard haystack at the Samuel Goist Farm.

The Village of Lordstown was the last of the original 25 townships to be settled in Trumbull County. In 1975 it became the County's youngest political unit when its citizens voted to replace a township form of government with a municipality by incorporating as a village. Although Lordstown has remained mostly rural through the years, it is home to General Motors Lordstown Complex, the manufacturing site for the popular Chevrolet Cruze. Every September locals and visitors alike flock to the annual Lordstown Apple Cider Festival.

The Village of McDonald's history began when the Carnegie Steel Company bought 118 acres of pastureland in Weathersfield Township to develop a village for its workers. Known as a "company town," McDonald later incorporated in 1918. In 1941, the steel company sold the land in the village to a developer who then sold the land and houses to the residents. That same developer began a new housing development in 1950 that consisted of 225 prefabricated homes.

Mecca Township's swamp-like conditions caused the area to be one of the last as well as the least settled. Even before the first settler arrived here in the early 1800s, Native Americans had fled the area years before because of the swamp land. However, that changed in 1859, when oil was discovered. Hundreds of people from all over the country flocked to the area. Hotels, stores, boarding houses and residences were built and between 600 and 700 wells were drilled. But by 1865, the boom died almost as fast as it began. Today Mecca is a popular spot for outdoor enthusiasts, thanks in part to the Mosquito Creek Reservoir and the State Route 88 causeway. Just east of the causeway, anglers will find a variety of fishing supplies at Causeway Bait Tackle.

Mesopotamia Township, along with Middlefield in adjacent Geauga County, boasts the second largest Amish settlement in Ohio and the fourth largest in the country. The center of town, better known as the "Commons," is surrounded by 28 buildings, 21 of them built before the Civil War. It is included on the National Register of Historic Places as the Mesopotamia Village Historic District. The End of the Commons General Store has been in continuous operation since the 1840s. Fairview Cemetery, which sits adjacent to the Commons, features unique stone markers carved by Mesopotamia native Howard Bridgen. West of the center of town and in the heart of Amish Country is Ridgeview Farm, a working farm that offers seasonal produce and farm events. For groups of 20 or more and by advance reservation, Ridgeview Country Tours can provide visitors with a number of different tours of Trumbull County including Amish cultural tours where guests have an opportunity to meet members of the local Amish community and enjoy dinner with an Amish family. Continue west to Middlefield and check out the handcrafted items at Countryside Furnishings. Then relax and unwind in the tranquil atmosphere of Amish Country at the Old Stone Bed and Breakfast.

The Village of Newton Falls was once home to two covered bridges but only one remains today. The Newton Falls Covered Bridge is located a half-mile west of Warren-Ravenna Road on Arlington Street and was known as the "East" Bridge. Built in 1831, it's the oldest covered bridge still in service in Ohio and the only remaining wooden covered bridge in the state with an outside pedestrian walkway. The city's Veterans Park is also the location of the Mahoning River Waterfalls. Although currently closed, the Newton Falls Community Center is the former site of the nation's first USO facility built for defense workers during World War II. Work continues to have this facility added to the National Register of Historic Places.

Newton Township is located in the southwest corner of Trumbull County and is home to two branches of the Mahoning River which were important during the township's early days for both travel and commerce. A number of mills built along the river made use of the swift moving water for power.

The City of Niles is more commonly known as the birthplace of the 25th President of the United States, William McKinley and features the National McKinley Birthplace Memorial & Museum. However, Niles was also home to Harry M. Stevens, who is credited with the creation of the hot dog as well as the baseball scorecard and drinking straw. The Ward-Thomas House, which is home to the Niles Historical Society, features thousands of items including reproductions of several First Ladies Gowns. On the other side of Niles, Eastwood Field, home to the Mahoning Valley Scrappers, a New York-Penn Class A-Affiliate Team of the Cleveland Indians, sits adjacent to the Eastwood Mall Shopping Complex, one of the largest retail centers in the country. Crocheting and knitting artisans will find quality yarns, notions and accessories at Yarn Works located in a small plaza on US 422 just south of the mall.

The Village of Orangeville is actually divided by the Ohio and Pennsylvania state line.

Legend has it that because there were so many churches on the Pennsylvania side that while performing a wedding ceremony, the minister would ask the bride and groom to leave the church and then pronounce them married on the white line in the middle of the road!

Southington Township's unusual five-way intersection of Warren-Burton Road and State Routes 534 and 305, was the location of most of the homes, businesses and churches when this area was first settled.

Vernon Township's earliest settlers came from Connecticut and farming was the major industry. The early rural farms provided milk, cheese, butter and other goods to residents of Trumbull County and neighboring Pennsylvania. Today, farming remains the major industry.

a thriving community was established and included several businesses and a clock factory. The discovery of coal in the 1860s added prosperity to the area until the shafts were mined out. Then in 1883, a fire destroyed 12 buildings. But within the

The City of Warren is now the county seat of Trumbull County. But it was originally the capital of the Connecticut Western Reserve. The historic Trumbull County Courthouse (circa 1897) graces Courthouse Square Park and sits amidst downtown eateries and storefront shops including the Trumbull Art Gallery, 5 Grands Fashions, and All American Cards & Comics. Throughout the year, the park is the site of many local events and festivals. West of the square and across the street sits Monument Park and the Trumbull County Veterans Memorial. This site includes a reconstructed log cabin and monuments and memorials that commemorate the sacrifices of local citizens in military service. The Warren Community Amphitheatre, home of Sunrise Entertainment's River Rock at the Amp Summer Concert Series, overlooks the Mahoning River. The Mahoning Avenue National Historic District, better known as Millionaires Row, features stately homes and mansions that were built by the city's affluent in the 1800s and have been restored to their original grandeur. Recognized as national treasures, many of these structures are now home to businesses, museums and offices, including the Perkins Mansion, which has served as City Hall since 1931. The Kinsman House, which was built in 1832, and is now home to the Warren Heritage Center, features white marble mantels and black walnut woodwork, staircase and arched doorways. Directly next door, the Connecticut Land Company Office is the site where tracts of Western Reserve land were sold. Today it houses the Trumbull County Tourism Bureau. Adjacent to the Tourism Office sits Women's Park. This beautifully landscaped park, which is maintained by volunteers, is dedicated to women, both past and present, who have made a difference throughout Trumbull County. Nearby is the John Stark Edwards House Museum, which is home to the Trumbull County Historical Society and one of the oldest known structures in Trumbull County. Within the same block sits the national historic site and former home of Harriett Taylor Upton, a leader in the women's suffrage movement.

Just across the street is the Sutliff Museum which is located in the Warren-Trumbull County Public Library and features the life and times of the Sutliff family. Included in the museum is the Underground Railroad Exhibit, which has earned the library a Freedom Station designation by the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center in Cincinnati. The achievements and legacies of the innovative Packard family that helped put Warren, Ohio, on the map, can be found throughout the city. They include Packard Music Hall, which hosts local and national entertainment events, and the National Packard Museum, which chronicles the history of the Packard Automobile and the formation of the Packard Electric Company. The local newspaper, the Tribune Chronicle, which is the second oldest paper in the state of Ohio, began operation as the Trump of Fame in 1812. On Warren's northwest side sits a replica of Apollo 11's Lunar Landing Module which marks the site where Neil Armstrong took his first airplane ride at the age of six. During the summer months, catch a movie at the Elm Road Triple Drive-In. Not far from the drive-in is Simpson Gallery & Gifts which is jam-packed with a variety of unique gift items, many of which are made in the USA. The fresh herbs and produce grown by Earth Angel Farm can be found at area farmers markets and local events throughout the year. The Warren Farmers Market is held on Courthouse Square every Tuesday afternoon from June to October.

St. Demetrios Orthodox Church holds its annual Grecian Festival in July. The Warren Flea Market has been a downtown fixture for years while the Fine Arts Council of Trumbull County specializes in art programming and events for local artists. Visitors will find a number of locally-owned eateries including: Cockeye BBQ; the Hot Dog Shoppe; Mocha House, the Saratoga Restaurant and the Sunrise Inn. Those who have a taste for international cuisine will find the Yamato Japanese Restaurant located nearby on US 422.

Warren Township's population growth began in the early 1800s and centered in the city of Warren and also Leavittsburg. As transportation routes were developed, many rail lines made Leavittsburg a center for railroad activity. State Route 422 was the area's first highway link with Cleveland and brought commerce into the township. Paddling enthusiasts will find easy access to the Mahoning River at Canoe City MetroPark where Mahoning River Adventures offers kayaks and canoes for rent.

Weathersfield Township's salt springs brought men from Pennsylvania as early as 1755, to extract salt from the springs. It was the same reason that the Native Americans who had been removed by troops from Fort Pitt in Pittsburgh lived here. However, it was later determined that there was not enough concentration of salt to be prosperous and the springs were covered over. Glazed earthenware was manufactured here beginning in 1816. Coal was mined from the mid-1850s to 1888.

The Village of West Farmington was originally settled as Farmington Township in 1806. However, some residents decided that they wanted to branch off and incorporate their community as a village and did so in 1891 when they elected a mayor and council. Industry and manufacturing played a predominant role in the local economy made possible by rail transportation.

The Village of Yankee Lake was solely created to get around the "Blue Laws" so that local residents could dance on Sundays. The famed Yankee Lake Ballroom opened in 1928 and played host to a number of famous musical groups during the Big Band era including Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey and Glenn Miller. Today, the ballroom remains the largest such dance hall in Trumbull County and is the site of many concerts and events.

Located in the center of the Eastwood Mall, this three-tank aquarium is one of the first of its kind in the country located in a shopping complex. Key features include a 4,500 gallon shark tank surrounded by two 2,500 gallon tanks filled with a variety of salt water fish and live coral. Great for school field trips or group tours, the Aquarium is also a perfect location for sleepovers, birthday and theme parties.

Birds in Flight Sanctuary

Warren, Ohio 44484

330.652.3381 • BirdsinFlightSanctuary.com

Although not open to the public, many of this facility's permanent residents, who are unable to return to the wild due to injuries, are used for educational outreach programs. These presentations range from 45-minutes to four-hour "live displays," allowing audiences to get up close and personal with birds of prey. Our personal favorite is "Muddy" the barred owl.

Country Porch Winery

2282 Wilson Sharpsville Road (State Route 305) • Cortland, Ohio 44410 330.638.0000 • CountryPorchWinery.com

A beautiful country home nestled in the heart of Trumbull County in Bazetta Township not far from Mosquito Lake is the setting for this winery.

After starting their first winery in a warehouse and operating Cortland Wine Cellar for six-plus years, the proprietors have transitioned their successful business into a charming, country-style winery featuring its own unique character and variety of wines. Appetizers are available for purchase. And wine is sold by the tasting glass or bottle.

Check website for hours of operation and monthly food events which are by pre-ticket sales only. The winery is also available for private parties and events.

Dave Grohl Alley

Warren, Ohio 44481

Dedicated to Foo Fighters frontman and former Nirvana drummer, David Grohl, this roadway runs parallel to West Market Street in downtown Warren. Its west entrance is next to the Burger King Restaurant on Main Street SW. Grohl, who was born in Warren and moved to Alexandria, VA, at a young age, still has family here and spent many summer vacations in the area. The alley features murals of the musician painted by local artists.

Find of the Commons General Store (circa 1840)

8719 State Route 534 • Mesopotamia, Ohio 44062 440.693.4295 • EndoftheCommons.com

Located in the heart of Amish Country, this family-owned general store serves the local Amish community as well as provides visitors with a glimpse into the past. One of the oldest general stores in Ohio, it has been in continuous operation since 1840. Those looking for a bite to eat will enjoy the ambiance of the Commons Café located inside the store. Just steps away from the store entrance is a 15' wood sculpture, carved from a 350-year-old oak tree stump, featuring a frontiersman reminiscent of early settlers living in the area. Across from the store and adjacent to the Commons sits the world's largest Amish horse and buggy which stands 14' high and 32' long.

McKinley Birthplace Home & Research Center

40 South Main Street • Niles, Ohio 44446 330.652.1704 x7217 (for groups) • www.McKLib.org

This reconstructed house is located on the site of the original McKinley home and birthplace of President William McKinley. The furniture inside the eight-room house is representative of how a typical home during the early 1840s was furnished. The family moved to Poland, Ohio in 1852 and the home became the Benedict General Store. In the 1890s, the building was split into two and moved. From 1910 to the 1930s, both sections of the house were finally reunited and moved to Tibbet's Corners, which was later renamed McKinley Heights. The building was then operated as a birthplace memorial to President McKinley until declining attendance led to its closure. It later burned down in 1937. Today the reconstructed structure features the house, a research center, meeting room, computer lab and a small gift shop.

National McKinley Birthplace Memorial & Museum

40 North Main Street • Niles, Ohio 44446 330.652.4273 • McKinleyBirthplaceMuseum.org

This memorial and library honors the 25th President of the United States, William McKinley, who was born and raised in Niles, Ohio. His memorial is a classic example of Greek architecture and was built with Georgian marble and has two lateral wings. A statue of the former president graces the center of the "Court of Honor" and the museum contains artifacts of McKinley's life and presidency. He was the only President from the Civil War era who entered the Union Army as an enlisted man and was the first presidential candidate to use campaign buttons and the telephone to increase electoral appeal when campaigning.

■ National Packard Museum

1899 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483 330.394.1899 • PackardMuseum.org

This museum features the history of the Packard family, the Packard Motor Car and other Packard enterprises that have influenced the growth and industry of Warren. It hosts a number of special exhibits and events throughout the year including its annual Antique Motorcycle Show and Packard Legacy Weekend.

The Packard Automobile was in many cases, ahead of its time. There are a number of "Packard Firsts" related to this automobile. It was the first car to utilize a steering wheel. The first to include front and rear bumpers and the first to have air conditioning. It was the first car to use the H-pattern gear shift – which is still being used today – and it was the first to install double windshield wipers.

Special guided tours by advance request. The museum is also available for rent as an event venue.

OH WOW! The Roger & Gloria Jones Children's Center for Science & Technology 11 West Federal Street • Youngstown, Ohio 44503 330.744.5914 • OhWowKids.org

This interactive museum features hands-on exhibits and educational programs based in science, technology, engineering and mathematics that allow both children and adults to have fun while learning. Choose from self-directed or staff-guided exploration opportunities on-site.

Focused outreach programs are available off-site and there are professional development opportunities for area educators as well as internship and research opportunities for students — all with a focus on promoting STEM.

The museum is available for rent as an event venue.

Sutliff Museum

444 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483 330.395.6575 • SutliffMuseum.org

The life and times of the Sutliff family are featured here—from pioneer times of the Ohio Western Reserve through the days of the Civil War to the height of the Victorian era. This local family was active in the area's abolition movement and played significant roles in the Underground Railroad. The museum also features rotating exhibits that are displayed throughout the site.

Underground Railroad Exhibit

Warren-Trumbull County Public Library and the Sutliff Museum 444 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483 330.395.6575 • SutliffMuseum.org

This exhibit is featured on the second floor of the library next to the Sutliff Museum. It provides a glimpse of local anti-slavery sentiments from the 1820s to the 1850s and has earned the library a Freedom Station designation by the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center in Cincinnati.

♥ The Harriet Taylor Upton House (circa 1840)

380 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483 330.395.1840 • UptonHouse.org

This national historic site was home to the women's suffrage leader Harriet Taylor Upton and also served as the headquarters for the National American Women's Suffrage Association from 1903 until 1905 when it was moved to the Courthouse. In 1909 the organization relocated to New York City.

Usually open the first Sunday of every month April-October, it's best to call ahead for specific days and times. Special tours by advance request. The house is also available for rent as an event venue.

Ward-Thomas House Museum

503 Brown Street • Niles, Ohio 44446 330.544.2143 • NilesHistoricalSociety.org

This 14-room Victorian mansion, which is included on the National Register of Historic Places and is home of the Niles Historical Society, is situated on a park-like setting with formal gardens and an arboretum. Care of the museum is handled by volunteers and the house is decorated for each season. The museum features 5,000 items including reproductions of several First Ladies gowns as well as artifacts displaying the city's heritage and industrial legacy.

Warren Heritage Center

303 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483 330.372.0237

Located within the Kinsman House, a Greek Revival mansion that is included in the National Historic Registry and sits along Millionaires Row, this new resource center tells the story of the City of Warren and its role as the first economic and government center of the historic Connecticut Western Reserve. It collects, preserves and interprets artifacts from the City's past and maintains and conserves existing and future collections for exhibitions and educational programs.

Usually open the first Sunday of every month year-round, it's best to call ahead for specific days and times. Special tours by advance request. The house is also available for rent as an event venue.

Step back in time...

Trumbull County's collection of distinctive structures and urban landmarks, many dating back to the 1800s, showcase the historical significance of our area.

Connecticut Land Company Office

321 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483 866.360.1552 • 330.675.3081 • ExploreTrumbullCounty.com

This building once served as the headquarters for the Connecticut Land Company where tracts of Western Reserve land were sold in the early 1800s. Today it is the home of the Trumbull County Tourism Bureau.

Cortland Opera House (circa 1841)

152 Park Avenue • Cortland, Ohio 44410 330,638,6554 • 330,638,2330

Now owned by the Bazetta-Cortland Historical Society and used for community and social functions, this structure was originally the site of one of the first Methodist churches in the county. During the late 1800s, it became the Opera House where stage productions and minstrel shows were held.

The site is available for rent as an event venue.

Fairview Cemetery

State Route 534 • Mesopotamia, Ohio 44062

Unique stone markers carved by Mesopotamia native Howard Bridgen can be found here.

First Presbyterian Church

256 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44481

330.393.1524 • fpcwarren.org

Although the congregation was founded in 1803, the church's current brick structure, which reaches 225 feet into the air, was not dedicated until 1878 when it replaced the original white frame church building. The sanctuary is rich with Christian symbolism on its windows, walls, ceiling and furnishings. The origins of these symbols date as far back as the first century. The tower bell, which is the oldest in the city, was brought to the area by ox cart in 1832. In the early days of the city, the bell was used to signal important community events and emergencies.

The Gillmer House (circa 1854)

720 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483

This Italianate-style house was the area's first to have interior electric lights.

Gustavus Center National Historic District

State Routes 87 and 193 • Gustavus, Ohio 44417

Located at the intersection of State Routes 87 and 193, this national historic area has 12 buildings listed on the National Historic Registry. The prominent architectural style found here includes both Greek Revival and Federal.

The Hollister House (circa 1879)

6416 Route 45 • Bristolville, Ohio 44402

Built for newlyweds Holmes and Charlotte (Lottie) Hollister, this house was the first to have electric lights in Bristolville. The building that contained the Delco system still stands today next to the shoe repair shop founded by their son Lynn.

The Kinsman House (circa 1832)

303 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483

Built in 1832 as a wedding gift, this Greek revival mansion is located along Millionaires Row in downtown Warren's Historic District and is listed on the National Historic Registry. Home to the Warren Heritage Center, the interior features white marble mantels, a black walnut spiral staircase with beautiful woodworking and arched doorways.

Mahoning Avenue National Historic District

Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483

This historic district is home to "Millionaires Row", where the "Who's Who" of industry, commerce and politics lived in stately mansions that lined the street during the 1800s.

A self-guided walking tour brochure can be obtained from the Trumbull County Tourism Bureau.

McBride House (circa 1883)

Hager Street • Hubbard, Ohio 44425

The lot on which the house stands was originally owned by Samuel Tylee, Hubbard's first settler. The house and land were eventually passed on through the McBride family who operated a jewelry and watch repair business in Hubbard. Today the house is owned by the Hubbard Historical Society and is full of antiques and showcases pictures and memorabilia from the city's past.

Mesopotamia Village National Historic District

State Route 534 • Mesopotamia, Ohio 44439

The center of town, better known as the "Commons", is surrounded by 28 buildings, 21 of them built before the Civil War and included on the National Register of Historic Places. Today this area is part of the fourth largest Amish settlement in the country and the second largest in Ohio.

Monument Park and the Trumbull County Veterans Memorial

Corner of West Market Street and Mahoning Avenue • Warren, Ohio 44483

This park, which is on the east bank of the Mahoning River and includes a reconstructed log cabin built on the site of Warren's first schoolhouse (circa 1804), commemorates the sacrifices of local citizens in military service. In 2008 the new Trumbull County Veterans Memorial was added to the site. Built by volunteers from local building trade organizations with monetary donations from local businesses, organizations and residents, the memorial includes a World War II statue and a Wall of Honor. The Wall, which is comprised of bricks inscribed with individual names of veteran servicemen and women, honors and memorializes those who have served our country.

Newton Falls USO Building (circa 1941)

52 East Quarry Street • Newton Falls, Ohio 44444

Constructed in 1941 and dedicated in 1942, this building was the first USO facility built anywhere in the nation for defense workers during World War II. It was constructed specifically for those employed at the Ravenna Ordnance Plant and provided a variety of activities and services for thousands of employees and their families for the duration of the war.

Newton Falls Covered Bridge (circa 1831)

Arlington Road • Newton Falls, Ohio 44444

Constructed in 1831, this bridge is the oldest covered bridge still in service in Ohio and the only one in the state with a covered pedestrian walkway.

North Bloomfield Town Hall (circa 1893)

2063 Kinsman Road (State Route 87) • North Bloomfield, Ohio 44450

Built in 1893, this structure currently serves as the home of the North Bloomfield Historical Society and the organization's historical artifacts and memorabilia from the local community dating back to 1815. It's also the site of the historical society's monthly meetings and the organization's annual Trains in the Town Hall event every December.

Octagon House (circa 1858)

405 Main Street • Kinsman, Ohio 44028

Now a private residence, this unique eight-sided house which contains eight trapezoidshaped rooms, was the boyhood home of Clarence Darrow, the nationally acclaimed lawyer in the John Scopes "Monkey Trial."

The Old Mahoning Pioneer Cemetery

661 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483 330.399.8807 x202

Warren's first cemetery is located on the banks of the Mahoning River and is the final resting place for many of Trumbull County's pioneers and veterans who fought in the American Revolution, the War of 1812 and the Civil War. A self-guided walking tour map can be obtained from the Trumbull County Tourism Bureau.

Patch-Abell Home

608 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483

Comfort Patch, Warren's postmaster under President Abraham Lincoln, built this house in the 1850s which included a Greek revival floor plan and a bold Italianate cornice.

Perkins Mansion (circa 1871) and Perkins Park

391 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483 330.841.2601 • warren.org

Once owned by the Perkins family, this mansion features a stained glass skylight, marble fireplaces, hand-cut crystal chandeliers, intricate woodwork and has served as Warren's City Hall since 1934. A self-guided walking tour handout can be obtained from the Trumbull County Tourism Bureau.

Sitting adjacent to the mansion is Perkins Park, which is 35 acres and extends to the Mahoning River and is named after the Perkins family. In the early days, political conventions were held here. Today the main section of the park is known as Veterans Field and is marked by a large monument that commemorates the men and women who lost their lives in World War II. Open daily until dusk, permits are required for special event requests and pavilion rentals and can be obtained by contacting City Hall.

Presbyterian Church (circa 1831)

6383 Church Street • Kinsman, Ohio 44428

Originally named the First United Congregational and Presbyterian Church, this is one of the oldest extant churches in Trumbull County. Situated on the highest point in town, the church has a beautiful coved ceiling with twin cherry staircases on either side of the narthex and decorated cornices and balcony.

The Trumbull County Courthouse (circa 1897)

Courthouse Square Park • Warren, Ohio 44481

One of the oldest judicial facilities of its kind in Ohio, this Romanesque-style structure was completed in 1897, making it the third courthouse to occupy its location in Courthouse Park. It was placed on the National Register of Historic Sites in 1975 and features Ohio's largest common pleas courtroom. Clarence Darrow, the nationally-renown lawyer, who is most remembered for his defense during the Monkey Scopes Trial, practiced law here.

Woods House

624 Mahoning Avenue NW • Warren, Ohio 44483

This flush-sided Italianate building with an oversized cornice and round hooded windows was built in the late 1850s by Dr. Daniel B. Woods, one of the earliest adapters of a new medical procedure called anesthesia.

Life at a slower pace.

In rural northwest Trumbull County, a quieter, simpler way of life replaces the hustle and bustle of city life. Here among the tidy farms and whitewashed houses that dot the countryside, live the Amish.

As early as the 1880s, the Amish began settling in Trumbull and neighboring Geauga County. Today this area represents the second largest Amish community in Ohio and the fourth largest in the country.

They live in close-knit communities where the majority of Amish earn a living by farming, working in wood or owning some type of small unique specialty shop. They do without many modern conveniences such as electricity or telephones. However, the Amish don't reject all modern technology. They're selective in the tools which make sense for their lifestyle and businesses. Their mode of transportation is a horse and buggy but for work or long distance travel, they will hire a "taxi" to transport them.

The Amish speak a combination of German, Swiss and English, commonly known as Pennsylvania Dutch. English is their second language. Children only know "Amish" until they begin parochial school which they attend through the eighth grade. To successfully complete school, they must pass a difficult proficiency test.

Life revolves around the family. The average Amish family has seven children who are taught at an early age to help with everyday household chores and time at home is spent together.

The Amish are Christian separatists who dress in a traditional manner with clothing that sets them apart from the rest of the world and serves as a symbol of their commitment of good Christian living. The men start to grow a beard once they marry and always wear a hat. The women's dresses are closed with straight pins instead of buttons because the church feels that buttons are too showy. They always wear a covering on their heads. When church women go out, they wear a black "bonnet" on top of a white head covering. Dresses, aprons and capes are of a distinctive pattern in colors but may vary by church district.

While driving through the Amish countryside, many shops, roadside stands and other Amish businesses are clearly visible. As a rule these businesses are open to the general public and the owners will welcome visitors by promoting that fact with a simple sign describing what they have to offer and their hours of operation. All Amish businesses are closed on Sundays.

As you explore the back roads of the Amish countryside, please drive carefully when you come upon the Amish buggies. Remember that the Amish enjoy a slower pace of life so keep in mind that the buggy you may want to pass can only go as fast as the horse pulling it. And there's always a good chance that the buggy is carrying small children who are along for the ride.

Please be respectful of the Amish way of life and refrain from taking photos of the Amish people. They become very uncomfortable when they see someone with a camera. Photographs of the Amish are forbidden by their church because it considers the human spirit more important than the body.

We hope you enjoy your visit to this part of Trumbull County as you experience the sites, sounds and smells of a truly different life where we always like to say "Denki cum-vidda!" – thank you and come again!

Explore and experience nature up close.

With nearly 44,000 acres dedicated to outdoor recreation space within Trumbull County is considered the sixth largest outdoor recreational area in the state of Ohio.

Our state, county and local recreational sites offer a number of amenities including hiking and nature trails; canoeing and kayaking; boating, fishing and picnic facilities; bike and equestrian trails; hunting; camping; athletic fields; and playgrounds.

Additional information about any of the areas or parks included here is available by directly contacting each site.

STATE PARKS

Mosquito Lake State Park

1439 State Route 305, Cortland, Ohio 330.637.2856 • OhioStateParks.org

This nearly 4,000-acre park, which is one of the most visited state parks in Ohio with over two-million visitors annually, offers year-round recreational activities.

During the summer months, water recreation rules. Five launch ramps provide access to the water. Plus, jet skis, pontoon, fishing and paddle boats are available to rent and there's a 600-foot beach for swimming. Unlimited horsepower boating is permitted on the lake.

Eighteen miles of hiking trail meander through the park and along its shoreline while horseback riders enjoy access to the park's interior on a 10-mile wooded bridle trail. Mountain bikers are permitted on five miles of a multiple-use trail.

Dog lovers and their four-legged companions can enjoy a public off-leash exercise facility that includes access to the water.

The park offers 234 campsites, including 218 with electrical hook-ups that are situated among tall trees in a mature forest as well as those with shoreline access and panoramic views.

Fishing is popular throughout the year with plentiful catches of walleye, bass, northern pike and crappies. Hunting is permitted within designated times and areas of the park and in the nearby Grand River Wildlife Area. Controlled hunts by draw are conducted in the Mosquito Wildlife Refuge at the north end of the lake in North Bloomfield.

Picnic areas, including tables and grills, can be found throughout the park.

In the winter months, snowmobiles buzz along miles of shoreline and wooded trails. Ice fishermen dot the frozen lake and cross country skiers take advantage of miles of flat trails.

Birding enthusiasts will enjoy the many trails located throughout the park and will find a haven of waterfowl and shorebirds during spring and fall migration periods. Additionally, bald eagles may be seen as they patrol the area for food. According to Ohio wildlife officials in 2016, Trumbull County was the third top county in the state with the best viewing opportunities.

STATE WILDLIFE AREAS

Brook Wildlife Area

2181 Phalanx Mills Herner Road, Southington, Ohio 44470

This 389-acre wildlife area, which is located in western Trumbull County in Southington Township, is primarily wet woodlands with a mix of young forest and second-growth hardwoods. With nearly 60 acres of open wetlands, the area is mostly flat and wet with small streams and ditches throughout. Both Tinker and Eagle Creeks and their tributaries flow through this section. A 6.5-acre fishing pond is located on the eastern side of the area. where anglers can cast a line for largemouth bass, bluegill and stocked channel catfish.

White-tail deer, wild turkey, squirrel, woodcock and cottontail rabbit can be found here. Waterfowl and other wetland birds along with migratory species can be observed. Furbearers such as mink, raccoon, skunk, opossum, muskrat and beaver are also present.

Elm Road Public Hunting Area

2274 Elm Road, Cortland, Ohio 44410

This 135-acre area is restricted to archery hunting only. It features wetlands along the southwestern portion and is comprised of thick second-growth woods, small meadows and patches of wetlands. The land is mostly flat with a small creek running through the western side of the area. The extreme eastern side, which runs alongside Mosquito Creek, contains a slightly steeper terrain and is located in the floodplain.

White-tail deer, turkey, grey squirrel and cottontail rabbit can be found here.

Grand River Wildlife Area

6686 State Route 534 (North of State Route 88), West Farmington, Ohio 44491

Located northeast of West Farmington, this outdoor enthusiast paradise is comprised of 7,231 acres and includes the Grand River, five tributary streams, 12 ponds, 15 man-made marshes, and numerous beaver impoundments. As part of the largest semi-wilderness area remaining in heavily populated northeastern Ohio, many consider this forested land to be the only public hunting area in the vicinity where even the most experienced outdoor enthusiast should take precautions against becoming lost.

White-tail deer, wild turkeys, ruffed grouse and waterfowl are the principal game species found here. Cottontail rabbits, fox squirrels, ring-necked pheasants and raccoons are plentiful and woodcock and snipe frequent the area.

Spring offers good fishing for walleyes and suckers in the Grand River while carp and most panfish are plentiful all season long. Panfish, bass and pickerel are major species of fish that inhabit the ponds.

Wildlife enthusiasts can take advantage of a three-quarter mile observation trail including a boardwalk that crosses a beaver impoundment where beavers, river otters and a great variety of songbirds can be observed.

Mesopotamia Public Hunting Area

3525 Burton Bloomfield Road (State Route 87), North Bloomfield, Ohio 44450

Located in northern Trumbull County, this 99-acre public hunting area features thick woodlands, sprawling marshes, scrubland, winding tributaries and wide, slow moving streams located in a 100-year-old flood plain.

This area is home to white-tail deer, waterfowl, raccoons, rabbits and furbearers.

Mosquito Creek Wildlife Area

8303 North PArk Avenue • North Bloomfield, Ohio 44450

This 9,021 acre waterfowl management area is located west of the Mosquito Creek Reservoir and includes lands that are flat and poorly drained as well as 830 acres of marsh and two ponds.

It provides a regional nesting place for Canada geese, a resting area for migratory waterfowl, quality public hunting opportunities and a place for wildlife enthusiasts and others to observe a large number of waterfowl and birds associated with wetlands.

Controlled waterfowl and deer hunting are offered by permit. Largemouth bass, northern pike, walleye, bluegills, bullheads, crappies, channel fish and white bass comprise the game fish population in the Mosquito Creek Reservoir.

Birding enthusiasts will find both nesting and migrant birds using the area. Spring migration brings shorebirds and warblers and fall brings the hawks. Red-tailed and marsh hawks are a common sight in the summer. Some rare and unusual birds that have been spotted include the African cattle egret, bald and golden eagles, white pelican, glossy ibis, king rail, goshawk, osprey and long-eared owl.

Canada geese have at times numbered 13,000. Small flocks of migrant blue and snow geese often stop over in the fall. Wood ducks and mallards are the most common, followed by teal, and both scaup and black ducks. Nearly 300 whistling swans use the area for close to six weeks in the spring and smaller numbers stop for shorter periods in the fall.

The area is also home to one of Ohio's rarer species of reptiles: the eastern massasauga rattlesnake.

Shenango Wildlife Area

8000 Youngstown Conneaut Road (State Route 7), Kinsman, Ohio 44428

This nearly 5,000-acre wildlife area stretches northwest along Pymatuning Creek from Orangeville to Kinsman and crosses through four townships.

Much of Shenango's habitat is beaver swamp that is interspersed with upland fields and woodlands. Waterfowl, furbearers and songbirds are abundant. In the spring, this is an excellent place to watch woodcock mating flights at dawn and dusk.

The fish population at Pymatuning Creek includes largemouth bass, white crappies, sunfish, bullheads, carp and suckers. Spring is the best time to fish, with both live and artificial baits working effectively. The most productive bass fishing has been by canoe and casting lures.

One of the finer waterfowl marshes is located north of State Route 87 along Pymatuning Creek. From October to December and again in the spring, large numbers of migrant waterfowl can be found here.

Raccoon, muskrat and beaver are abundant. Other inhabitants include the fox squirrel, ruffed grouse, turkey, white-tailed deer, woodcock and pheasant. The cottontail rabbit is the most predominant upland game species in the area.

Canoeists and kayakers will find beautiful scenery and an opportunity to observe nature from the water. Hikers and birding enthusiasts will enjoy the variety of both nesting and migrant birds that use the area.

Parking lots are situated throughout the wildlife area.

Warren Wildlife Area

1959 Main Avenue SW, Warren, Ohio 44485

Located three miles south of Warren's central district, this 40-acre area is managed for public hunting and fishing and includes a small marsh located in the center. Consisting primarily of bottomland hardwoods, this nature area is home to many game animals including fox squirrel, wild turkey, white-tailed deer and cottontail rabbits. Furbearers such as mink, skunk, opossum and muskrat also inhabit the area and several species of nesting and migrating birds can be seen at different times of the year. The marsh and river are also used by beaver, river otters and migrating waterfowl with wood ducks the most prominent.

In addition to hunting and limited trapping, fishing can be found along the Mahoning River.

West Farmington Public Hunting Area

6935 Curtis Middlefield Road, Middlefield, Ohio 44062

This 263-acre wildlife area is located in northern Trumbull County features a collage of open fields, deciduous trees and evergreen forest. Small creeks crisscross the land and beaver dams are a common sight.

White-tailed deer, turkey, gray squirrel, rabbit and woodcock can all be found here.

Grand River Wildlife Shooting Range

6693 Hoffman Norton Road, West Farmington, Ohio 44491

This shooting range, which is handicap-accessible, requires a shooting range permit that must be purchased prior to visiting the range. Shooters can choose from 25, 50 and 100-yard ranges supervised by Ohio Wildlife officers. Check the ODNR website for hours of operation.
